When the email address of only one author is given, or that author is listed separately as a correspondent, the email addresses of other authors are given in the additional information about the authors at the end of the article.

Information about the author (authors) is repeated in English after the title of the article in English. The name and surname of the author (authors) are given in transliterated form in Latin in full, the patronymic is reduced to one letter (in some cases, due to the peculiarities of transliteration, to two letters).

An example is Sergey Yu. Glaz'ev

Financial University, Moscow, Russia, serg1784@mail.ru,

<https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4616-0758>

Additional information about the author(s) may include:

– full names, patronymics and surnames, e-mail addresses and ORCID of the authors, if they are not indicated on the front page of the article;

- academic titles;

- academic degrees;

– International Author Identification Numbers other than ORCID.

Additional information about the author(s) is given with the words “Information about the author (authors)” preceding the words “Information about the author (authors)” and indicated at the end of the article after the “List of sources”.

Example – Author information

Yu. A. Zubok – doctor of sociological sciences, professor;

V. I. Chyprov – Doctor of Sociological Sciences, Professor.

Information about the authors

Ju. A. Zubok – Doctor of Science (Sociology), Professor;

V. I. Chuprov – Doctor of Science (Sociology), Professor.

The main text of the article can be structured and consist of the following parts:

– introduction;

- the text of the article (with the highlighting of the sections "Materials and Methods", "Results", "Discussion", etc.);
- conclusion.

It is allowed to divide the main text of the article into thematic headings and subheadings.

Captions and captions to the illustrative material are given in the language of the text of the article and, as a rule, are repeated in English.

The main text of an article in a publication can only be in one language. Mixing text in two languages in one article is not allowed.

Tables are placed in the text in the course of presentation. Illustrative material with a total maximum area of up to 750 sq.cm. and tiff extension, must be prepared for black and white printing. Appropriately numbered figure captions are printed at the end of the article after the bibliography. In captions to microphotographs, it is mandatory to indicate the methods of staining and magnification.

Requirements for the order of presentation of the material: a brief update (without a title), the purpose of the work, research methodology, research results (with discussion if necessary), conclusion, literature, a brief abstract of the article (abstract) with key words (Key words) in Russian and English.

Cited literature is given after the conclusion of the article in alphabetical order (Russian, then foreign sources). In the text of the article, literary sources are given in the form of numbers enclosed in square brackets, according to the list of references presented. The maximum volume of the list of used literature should not exceed 15 sources. References to publications earlier than 2015 should be exceptions (priorities, main methods, generally accepted standards and classifications). Links to unpublished articles, abstracts and preprints are not allowed.

Bibliographic entries in the list of off-text bibliographic references are numbered and placed in the order of citation of sources in the text of the article.

Additionally, a list of off-text bibliographic references in Latin ("References") is given according to the chosen style of the design of the list of off-text bibliographic references adopted in foreign publications: Harvard, Vancouver,

Chicago, ACS (American Chemical Society), AMS (American Mathematical Society), APA (American Psychological Association), etc. The numbering of entries in the additional list of off-text bibliographic references should match the numbering of entries in the main list of off-text bibliographic references.

The bibliographic record for the article bibliographic list is made according to GOST 7.80, GOST R 7.0.100.
